- 3 February 2019 @ 2.30pm George Cople - The presentation tells the story of Bomber Command's successful six year World War 2 campaign against Germany, from day one to the end in May 1945. It asks that Guernica, Warsaw, Antwerp, Rotterdam, London, Plymouth, Portsmouth, Hull, and many other cities attacked by the Luftwaffe should be remembered, and presents photographs of the aircraft available to the RAF in 1939. It describes the difficulties of finding targets at night and in bad weather, in Germany, when the means of navigating were simply by "Dead Reckoning" aided when possible by Astro Navigation and Wireless Direction finding, the latter not available over occupied Europe. He recognises the early difficulties, but leads into the ever increasing accuracy and impact of the air war on Germany. He also develops views on the so-called moral issues.

Selling aeroplanes is fiercely competitive, working in an arena where there are triumphs disappointments, politics and many frustrations. Barry will recall some of his many adventures reflecting on the laughs, champagne and tears along a journey which started on our very doorstep at Woodford. Should be a great meeting and copies of "Wings for Sale" will also be available
